

My House, My Life

You will need:

- A pile of bricks, vehicles, minifigures and pieces

How to play:

- We all have 'ups' and 'downs' in life. Sometimes we feel good and other times we feel rubbish.
- Build yourself a house. This is what your life is at the moment.
- Think about what makes your life good. Who are the people, pets or things that make you smile. They may not be living in your house at the moment, but they can go in your model.
- Build mini models and characters to represent these people and things and put them in your model house.
- Think about how you could make someone else smile. Build a mini model for that person and show them or take a photo or video and send it to them.
